The Health Center Movement has survived and thrived for more than 50 years. Key to that endurance has been our ability to continuously attract growing numbers of young people who are dedicated to the health center mission.

For our Spring issue of Community Health Forum magazine, we will focus attention on the many young people today in the Health Center Movement whose fresh ideas and new thinking are helping us move America's Health Centers forward into the future. We are inviting you to recommend an individual(s) to be featured. The person must be under 40 years old and a staff person (any level) or board member of a health center, primary care association or Health Center Controlled Network.

To nominate an individual(s) to be featured, please email us at: communications@nachc.org. Please include:

  (email address, phone #, title and organization name)

- Nominee’s name and contact information
  (email address, phone #, title and organization name) and a brief personal statement as to why this person and his or her work and service should be featured.
